

Site navigation plan 1.0

- Every page has a link back to the main page, as well as a link to the login/account page. Any subpages also have a link back to the last step in the hierarchy.
- The account page link leads to a login dialogue if logged out, and the account page with information about past/current reservations if logged in. Following the link and then logging in will show the account page along with a link to the last visited page.
- The search function is on the main page. Results will be shown on the Results page.
- There is only one page for campsite information; the relevant fields are populated from the campsite database depending on which link was followed from the search result page.
- Likewise reservation page draws from the campsite page. Reservation confirmation happens with a pop-up.

DATA to store between pages:

- Search parameters
- Chosen campsite
- Logged in status
- (If logged in) account ID
- Last visited page
